General Marking Guidance

- All candidates must receive the same treatment. Examiners must mark the first candidate in exactly the same way as they mark the last.
- Mark schemes should be applied positively. Candidates must be rewarded for what they have shown they can do rather than penalised for omissions.
- Examiners should mark according to the mark scheme not according to their perception of where the grade boundaries may lie.
- There is no ceiling on achievement. All marks on the mark scheme should be used appropriately.
- All the marks on the mark scheme are designed to be awarded. Examiners should always award full marks if deserved, i.e. if the answer matches the mark scheme. Examiners should also be prepared to award zero marks if the candidate's response is not worthy of credit according to the mark scheme.
- Where some judgement is required, mark schemes will provide the principles by which marks will be awarded and exemplification may be limited.
- When examiners are in doubt regarding the application of the mark scheme to a candidate's response, the team leader must be consulted.
- Crossed out work should be marked UNLESS the candidate has replaced it with an alternative response.

Positive points in favour of a partnership

The increase in capital will be long-term and Bejam will not be required to repay the capital.

There need be no annual interest charges for the investment.

A new partner will bring additional skills, ideas and additional effort into the business which will reduce the burden on Bejam.

Partnership will not require the repayment of a loan. A loan would require annual repayments and interest initially of £2 400. Interest will be paid over the five years.

Positive points in favour of a bank loan

Bejam will pay back the loan over time from the increased business generated from the expansion.

Bejam will retain total control of the business, this will not be diluted by a partnership. He will continue to manage the direction of the business.

The cost of the loan will be fixed and may be far lower than sharing half of the profits to a partner.

The profit at present is £9 370 per year, which will be able to finance the repayments.

Bejam is in total control and does not have to consult with a partner, and therefore, there would be no disagreements.

Decision

Candidates may conclude that it is better to finance the expansion by taking a partner or by a bank loan. Candidates should support that decision with an appropriate rationale.

Level	Mark	Descriptor
	0	A completely incorrect response.
Level 1	1-3	Isolated elements of knowledge and understanding recall based. Weak or no relevant application to the scenario set. Generic assertions may be present.
Level 2	4 - 6	Elements of knowledge and understanding, which are applied to the scenario. Chains of reasoning are present, but may be incomplete or invalid. A generic or superficial assessment is present.
Level 3	7 - 9	Accurate and thorough understanding, supported throughout by relevant application to the scenario. Some analytical perspectives are present, with developed chains of reasoning, showing causes and/or effects. An attempt at an assessment is presented, using financial and non-financial information, in an appropriate format and communicates reasoned explanations
Level 4	10 - 12	Accurate and thorough knowledge and understanding, supported throughout by relevant and effective application to the scenario. A coherent and logical chain of reasoning, showing causes and effects. Assessment is balanced, wide ranging and well contextualised using financial and non-financial information and makes informed recommendations and decisions.

(d) A02 (12)

A02: Twelve marks for explaining the use plus example

Materiality concept	Example
Applies to items of very low value which are insignificant to decision making . Cost of time to record such low value items would outweigh the cost of the item.	Items such as stationery/ calculators will be charged in the period that they are purchased although inventory of stationery from that purchase may remain for future financial periods.
Business entity concept	Example
The financial transactions of the business must be kept separate from the financial transactions of the owner .	Payments made for the owner's benefit must be shown as drawings in the accounts.
Money measurement concept	Example
Recognises that some assets cannot be measured in monetary terms and not included in the financial statements.	Some assets to the business such as people's skill cannot be recorded on the SOFP.
Annual depreciation charge	Example
Non-current assets will reduce in value in an accounting period and this therefore must be accounted for as an expense of the business.	An appropriate method for each non-current asset must be selected and consistently applied.
Allowance for irrecoverable debts	Example
It is probable that not all the existing trade receivables will be able to pay their debts.	There will be a certain number of debts which are irrecoverable. An estimate, usually in percentage terms , will be made and this will be deducted from the gross value of the trade receivables in the SOFP.
Accounting ethics	Example
Businesses should report with honesty and integrity . Not misleading by issuing inaccurate statements or financial statements.	Not withholding relevant information such as potential lawsuits, sudden value changes of non-current assets, or major barriers to the business in the future which could not reasonably be foreseen by a stakeholder.

(12)

(e) A01 (1) A02 (1) A03 (5) A04 (5)

Positive points in favour of the statement

It is true that if the trial balance does balance, Alexandra may take this as 'prima facie' evidence that the books are correctly prepared.

By balancing, this is evidence that the 'golden rule' of accounting has been applied and that for every debit entry a corresponding credit entry has been made.

Balancing shows arithmetical accuracy.

Negative points against the statement

There may be omissions where transactions have not been entered at all in the books.

There are other errors which would not affect the balancing of Alexandra's books. These include errors of commission, principle, compensation and reversal.

Errors of original entry may have been made where both the debit and credit entries are incorrect, but the same figure has been used.

Decision

Candidates should conclude that the statement is incorrect. Candidates should support that decision with an appropriate rationale.

- The non-chargeable hours percentage was higher than budgeted
- Hours worked on recoverable work were less
- Low efficiency.

(e) A02 (1) A03 (2) A04 (3)

Positive points for LIFO

Raw materials are issued to production at the most recent prices paid. This will particularly be beneficial in inflationary times.

Prices quoted to customers would be more accurate compared to competitor's prices/ market prices.

Negative points for LIFO

Not accepted as a valid method of inventory valuation by the tax authorities.

In inflationary times closing inventory will be under-valued and profits will be higher.

If perpetual valuation used, considerable work involved in valuing inventory.

Decision

Candidates may conclude that LIFO is advantageous or disadvantageous.

Candidates should support that decision with an appropriate rationale.

Positive points for purchase

There is additional investment in the business with the purchase of non-current assets.

The gross profit percentage at 40% is good.

Economies of scale with better and more modern equipment.

Negative points against purchase

The business has substantial debt which has been increased to £700 000 to be repaid within five years. Can the business generate the cash flow to repay the five-year bank loans?

The profitability is very poor with the ROCE decreasing to 0.01%

Expenses and costs are high.

Profit seems to be driving the business at the expense of a range of social accounting factors.

Decision

Candidates may conclude that Primary Metals should/should not be purchased.

Candidates should support that decision with an appropriate rationale.

Level 1	1-2	Isolated elements of knowledge and understanding which are recall based. Generic assertions may be present. Weak or no relevant application to the scenario set.
Level 2	3-4	Elements of knowledge and understanding, which are applied to the scenario. Some analysis is present, with developed chains of reasoning, showing causes and/or effects applied to the scenario, although these may be incomplete or invalid. An attempt at an evaluation is presented, using financial and perhaps non-financial information, with a decision.
Level 3	5-6	Accurate and thorough knowledge and understanding. Application to the scenario is relevant and effective. A coherent and logical chain of reasoning, showing causes and effects is present. Evaluation is balanced and wide ranging, using financial and perhaps non-financial information and an appropriate decision is made.

Positive points for floating capital

Ciara and Dennis personal transactions are in a single account, so a single point of reference for personal transaction information.

A single account giving each of the partners investment in the partnership

Negative points against floating capital

Ciara and Dennis can withdraw long term capital.

Difficult to calculate any interest on capital.

Decision

Candidates may conclude that fixed or floating capital accounts are advantageous.

Candidates should support that decision with an appropriate rationale.

AO1: Four marks for explaining the difference

Error of reversal	Error of compensation
Only one error	At least two errors
Debiting and crediting will be of the same value	Debiting and crediting will be of different values
Debiting and crediting will be on the 'wrong side' of the ledger account.	At least two errors with values cancelling each other out in total.

2 differences x (2) AO1

(4)

(e) A02 (1) A03 (2) A04 (3)

Positive points for cash transactions giving a reduction in errors

There would be no trade receivables or trade payables ledgers so the chance of errors when making entries would be diminished.

There would be less entries and therefore potentially less errors.

Negative points against cash transactions giving a reduction in errors

There would still be entries required in the general ledger so errors may still arise.

Possibility of theft with so much cash around.

Decision

Candidates may conclude that cash transactions would/would not reduce errors in the books of account. Candidates should support that decision with an appropriate rationale.
